Shree Sinha is a Senior Partner at Desai & Diwanji's Mumbai office, except for a brief period when he was based in the United States as the global head of the South Asia practice of a white-shoe firm.

Shree's practice encompasses a broad range of corporate transactional work that is focused on domestic and cross-border M&A, private equity transactions, venture capital funding, early-stage enterprise investments, infrastructure and project development as well as general corporate advisory. He also regularly helps senior management deal with complex regulatory matters, ESG-related issues and in developing best practices.

He has advised governments, regulators, multilateral organisations, sovereign wealth funds, four of the ten largest global private equity firms, venture capital funds, multinational companies, Indian business houses as well as project companies.

His clients appreciate Shree's negotiation skills and the emphasis he lays on collegial, analytical as well as team-based approaches to identify and assess client interests. He is known for creatively exploring alternative deal terms and structures with a view towards optimising transaction values.

This is a general overview of Shree's practice. Please contact him to receive a more detailed statement of his experience in any particular area of his practice.
